Dayshift officers had a pretty standard day. The types of calls they responded to were mostly the typical everyday calls. During this shift officers investigated a vandalism to a vehicle. The owner awoke and found that the rear window to her vehicle had been smashed. An inspection of the vehicle found that the interior was not ransacked, the vehicle doors were still locked, and nothing was missing. Officers contacted a subject who they knew had an outstanding warrant. The subject was detained and the warrant was confirmed. He was arrested for the warrant. Officers also conducted traffic enforcement stops on various vehicles. One of the cars stops produced a subject who was driving on a suspended license. This subject was also arrested.
